General Comment

I feel that if I have been able to work long enough to retire, I probably can figure out how to handle my retirement. I certainly don't need the government (you) to tell me how to do it. Look at how all the supposedly smart government people handle the budget, social security, entitlement programs; I certainly do not need you to ruin my retirement just as you have done with social security. If you can't balance a budget why would I put my faith in the government to handle my retirement. The government's idea of handle retired American's money is to add another entitlement program, to give it to another country, or to give themselves a pay raise! I am so fed up with government in the U.S. Should that not tell you all something?! I am not alone! With our government, it's all about what you can do for yourselves, what you can do for those that are too lazy to work, and helping countries and people that would just as soon see us all dead (well, if there was any way they could continue getting money from us). Do you not understand how disgusted working Americans are getting with what our government is doing to us?! No, I certainly don't want government handling my retirement!
