General Comment

I am very concerned if the government starts trying to control my IRA, 401K or any other of my retirement accounts. This is money I earned and I have decided how I want it put away for my retirement. I don't believe the government should be telling me what to do. Especially after how the government has handled social security which started out being a retirement program for retirees and now it is used for much more than the intended purpose. Please let us keep things out of the government hands that were never intended to be there in the first place per our founding fathers.

Sincerely,
Pat Constantine
