Subject: HHS mandate that all medical insurance and health care plans provide certain "preventive health services" as part of future benefits packages in health care reform

In reference to the above, I would like to state that the current definition of religious employer does not provide true conscience protection for those committed to preserving life. Healthcare plans should not be forced to violate the moral and religious convictions of providers or employees in order to participate in the health care system. Requiring such an unacceptable demand threatens both universal access to health care and religious freedom of conscience.

Thank you for taking into consideration my comments.
