General Comment

I want stronger language for people and businesses to have the opportunity to abstain from any from fulfilling any anti-life mandates with the reason being the right of conscience. There should also be room by right of conscience not to fulfill any part of the health mandates listed. The constitution allows for that and should be in any legislation created for citizens in the U. S. to follow. As a voting american I have the right to ask our government to abide by the constitution and to not force citizens to hand out, sell, buy, things, or work in areas that go against their conscience.
