General Comment

So we should decrease regulations on corporations, but increase regulations on individual investors?

Maybe I want some of my retirement contributions to go to companies that are better for the environment or won't contribute to climate change. My 9 year old daughter would like me to do that so she can live without catastrophic storms, fires, heat.

How dare the government influence me, a private individual, in how I choose to invest my money.

Please do not allow this rule to go into effect.
