Dear Mr. Canary,

Please do not force retirement funds to choose invest ments that contain fossil fuels. They should be able to choose a fossil-free investment option. Please give workers a choice on what kind of funds they want. Do not limit their choice. Allow funds that take Environment, social, & Corporate governance standards into account. People want the ESG funds' ability to produce profit -- as well as having their investments benefit the welfare of the community & the planet. Fossil fuels are a losing proposition now. Why force hard-working Americans to prop up a business that has no long-term future.

Please do not allow <sup>passage of</sup> RIN 120-AB95
Proposed Reform Financial Factors in Select Investment plans, That would be like Communism - having the people take the losses of a government-backed business that failed. We have already had to bail out banks during the mortgage crisis. Before that it was Savings & Loans (yes, I am retirement age). And it isn't fair to ask us to bail out another failed industry - the fossil fuel players whose days are numbered.

Thank you for listening,
Susan C. Bryant
