General Comment

I understand that in the name of furthering a woke agenda, the Biden administration is attempting to FORCE investment managers to invest MY MONEY in woke corporations rather than whats best for MY financial future.

Investment managers are supposed to make all investment decisions solely on the basis of financial decisions that will increase OUR retirement savings, but evidently, many investment managers are joining the growing trend of investing OUR MONEY to address environmental, social, and corporate governance issues rather than maximizing our returns.

I do not want my money being used for buying stocks in companies that are all-in on a radical socialist agenda.

No Americans should be FORCED to work their entire lives towards their retirement, only to have everything theyve saved be used to support companies who push environmental extremism, Critical Race Theory, and identity politics.
