General Comment

No one has the right to tell me or anyone else how we are to spend our money. If I wanted to fund "woke" corporations, that should be of my own choice. I guarantee if you enact this nonsense, a ton of people will have their retirements destroyed, either when these "woke" companies inevitably go broke because they simply can't sustain, or when people stop investing in 401k plans altogether. I know I will no longer be putting money into a 401k if this ridiculousness becomes regulation. Are you trying to bankrupt the country??? We're certainly on that track now. If "woke" policies actually worked, people would flock to them voluntarily. Ever hear the statement "good ideas don't require force"? Seriously reconsider this. Not only is it a horrible idea, you have zero right to control anyone's finances!
