General Comment

I am a retired teacher, and I rely on my teachers pension to pay my living expenses through the month. I am also an active volunteer in the climate movement.

It troubles me ethically that my pension money is invested in anti-life fossil fuel corporations. But recently I also have read that my pension money is invested in a losing proposition with fossil fuel companies. Of course fossil fuel corporations are losing money, they rely on a steady climate for profits, the climate they themselves are destroying.

Please make it impossible for my pension funds to go into loser investments in fossil fuel corporations.
