General Comment

As a tax payer it is very disheartening to see my taxes used to go after youtubers who share their opinions but not the criminals that manipulate markets. Criminals need to be held accountable no matter how rich they are, this whole rules for thee but not for me [REDACTED] has to stop. There will be a breaking point where trust in the us markets crumbles, and then what? Accountability, transparency and market fairness needs to be the focus moving forward.
