General Comment

The way I understand the writing of this Rule, it would eliminate my ability to trade options in my retirement account. This is ridiculous and patently unfair that I would not be able to protect my investments by using Options Trades to hedge the inherent risk of owning securities. Options trades are available to the general investor in other accounts, they should also be available in retirement account since that is where the majority of many people's assets reside.

Please reconsider the wording and/or intent of this rule so that it does NOT restrict or disallow Options trading in retirement accounts.
