General Comment

I object to any efforts to restrict or curtail my right to buy or sell both puts and calls in my IRA. This is true for covered or uncovered puts and calls. I have accrued significant gains that would have otherwise not been available to me. And I would object to any rules or requirements requiring training or advisors in the use of puts and call options. There is no need for the imposition of additional rules or requirement. And I disagree strongly with any opinions to the contrary.
