General Comment

PLEASE, stop interfering with my ability to earn some extra money my trading stock options. I usually sell covered calls in my bokerage and retirement accounts. I spent a good year or more educating myself on how to safely place option trades and it does suppliment my income now as well as when I do retire in 10 years. Options trading actuallyreduces my risk of loss and puchasing a stock outright. I get the shares at a reduced price and often can sell them for a small profit at the options expiration date. I do not need this ability to suppliment my income taken away or resticted by more government regulation. I can manage the risks on my own.

Thanks for your concern...
