General Comment

Let me be brief and to the point. I deserve every retirement tool at my disposal to enhance my accounts. What I do not need is the government attempting to protect me from utilizing Options Trading in my IRA accounts. Where I invest, how I invest and with whom I invest is my business and is NOT the concern of the US government. The fact is, the more money I make in my IRA accounts, the more TAX revenue the government will make when I withdraw cash from those accounts. Why would the government want to screw up a source of tax revenue? You government folks are absolutely insane for messing with the private finances of people who do NOT mind paying taxes on the monetary gains and withdrawals from IRA accounts. Get real and leave private investors alone.
