General Comment

I am personally opposed to adoption of this ruling which limits individual investors on their ability to trade options within their own IRA accounts. Being retired, I look for good safe ways to increase my income. When used properly, options are a big opportunity to do so. This proposed rule change greatly limits my ability to generate safe income within my IRA accounts. I am also opposed to such kinds of rulings based on the fact it is an infringement of my rights to direct investment in any way possible. Government is not designed to shackle all individuals because a few are not competent to govern themselves. Please do not pass this resolution. Thank you.
