

Designated Megaprojects Map

The map is color-coded by OFCCP's six regions: Northeast, Mid-Atlantic, Southeast, Midwest, Southwest and Rocky Mountain, and Pacific. There is a legend at the top right of the map identifying the colors associated with each region. Clicking on a region within the legend highlights that region and diminishes the rest of the country.

The Northeast Region is light purple and includes Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, and New Jersey.

The Mid-Atlantic Region is light green and includes Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia.

The Pacific Region is dark blue and includes Alaska, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, California, Nevada, Arizona, Hawaii, and Guam.

The map shows a dot over the locations of each project. The dots are color-coded based on the federal funding agency. The U.S. Department of Energy projects are yellow, the U.S. Department of Transportation projects are red, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency projects are purple, the U.S. General Services Administration projects are pink, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers are Orange, and the U.S. Department of the Interior are dark pink. A legend at the bottom center of the map identifies the color associated with each funding agency. Clicking on a funding agency within the legend highlights where that agency's projects are on the map and diminishes the others.

Additional details about the Megaproject are shown when you click on each project's location. There are currently 40 designated Megaprojects, with six in the Northeast Region, seven in the Mid-Atlantic Region, six in the Southeast Region, seven in the Midwest Region, seven in the Southwest and Rocky Mountain Region, and seven in the Pacific Region.
